Merry Christmas from our corner of the Lord's Field!

Warm greetings to all! We trust that this letter finds you blessed in the presence of the Lord. We write with hearts full of gratitude and appreciation for your unwavering support, both in faithful prayers and generous financial contributions. Your dedication has played a significant role in the numerous impactful endeavors we've been able to undertake, and we are excited to share some highlights with you.

Firstly, we rejoice in the news of Serapio's release from the Reynosa prison and his newfound mission of preaching on the streets in Guatemala. Your support has helped transform lives and open doors for men and women seeking redemption and a new life with Christ.

Additionally, your contributions have facilitated the delivery of an essential piece of medical equipment to the prison in Matamoros, improving the health and well-being of the women within its walls.

The ongoing success of the Bible Institute, with presently over 90 inmates in the prisons of Reynosa and Santa Adelaida, is a testament to the positive influence your support has had on the spiritual growth of many.

As we approach this Christmas season, we cannot help but reflect on the true reason for this joyous time. Though there is war and violence in the land of our Lord's birth, we are reminded of the angelic proclamation in Luke 2:14, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." In the midst of all the world's turmoil, God's message of peace and goodwill still remains a guiding light.

The birth of our Savior, His 33 years among us as both God and man, and the sacrifice He made for our redemption are at the forefront of our reflections. In the midst of uncertainties and conflicts, we find peace in the eternal truth encapsulated in the Christmas story.

This Christmas season, as we lend our assistance with the preparations for the prison children's Christmas festivities, by delivering the candy for the two prisons, we are reminded that our greatest gift is found in Christ Jesus. May we hold fast to the essence of Luke 2:14, keeping Him first in our lives, and spreading the message of peace and God's goodwill to all.

Once again, thank you for your steadfast support. We are truly grateful for your partnership in spreading hope, love, and the transformative message of Christmas.

We wish you and your loved ones a blessed Christmas and a joyous New Year.

From our corner of "His" field,

Gary, Brenda, and Joey Morgan

The Night before Christ's Birth

'Twas the night before Christ's birth, in Bethlehem's land,
Not a creature was stirring, in the cold desert sand.
The stars in the heavens shone brilliantly bright,
Guiding Joseph and Mary that magical night.

They came for the census, to Bethlehem's domain,
The journey was made, through the desert with pain.
Mary, heavy with child, with Joseph by her side,
Sought for a room, but found no place to reside.

There was no room in the inn, no bed to unfold,
So in a stable, they rested, away from the cold.
The starlit sky was a blanket of grace,
And a manger was His cradle, in that humble place.

Mary, with care, laid her baby to rest,
Wrapped in swaddling clothes, she made a humble nest.
The angels above sang with voices so sweet,
Announcing the Savior that soon they would meet.

Joseph stood guard, with a watchful eye,
Over Mary and Jesus beneath the starry sky,
The animals were hushed in the stable's repose,
As in peace the Babe slept, amidst the world's sinful throes.

When out on the hills there arose such a sound,
Shepherds looked up, astonished, all around.
Angels proclaimed with a heavenly light,
"Glory to God, and to all, a peaceful night!"

Away to the stable, they flew like the breeze,
To witness the moment, to fall on their knees.
The baby, so holy, so tender, so mild,
In the arms of his mother, so peacefully smiled.

More brilliant than sunsets, His eyes seemed to shine,
A King among kings, though a babe, yet divine.
He came to His mission, God's gift to the earth,
Bringing love, hope, and peace, and for all a new birth.

That night marked the start of a story so grand,
The birth of our Savior, for all in the land.
It began in a stable, beneath stars shining bright,
So, Merry Christmas to All, and to All, Divine Light!
